Leadership isn't all honor and glory. More often, leadership requires you to slog through the muck with your team in less-than-ideal circumstances. And when times are tough, keeping your team motivated and focused to move forward can seem impossible. MSU Alumni Association Associate Director and past Kiwanis International President, Sue Petrisin, will share best practices for navigating through troubled waters and rallying your team to success – no matter whether you consider yourself a leader or not.

8:30am-10:00am, Chittenden Hall, Room 110

This talk will discuss how you can enhance your ability to lead, whether you are currently in a leadership role or aspire to one. Topics will include mentor/mentee relationships, seeking out career developmental opportunities, and what "out-group" members can do to receive the information and opportunities often reserved for "in-group" members. Presenter: Dr. Angela Hall, School of Human Resources & Labor Relations.

This panel discussion will explore different types of leadership and pathways to becoming the leader you want to be in the world. Panelists: Brenda Nelson, Division of Residential and Hospitality Services, Sharri Margraves, MSU Human Resources, and Debbie Edokpolo, Ingham County Health Department
